

Glebe War Memorial

Glebe Point Road near to Bridge Street.
Glebe
NSW 2037

Description:

In the form of a shrine with an interior chamber listing the names of those from Glebe who paid the supreme sacrifice in World War I

The memorial is a composite construction of stone, ornamental marble, concrete and bronze.

The bust of an angel acts as a sentinel over the entrance to the enclosed chamber, while on the left is the bust of an Australian soldier, complimented on the right by a sailor - all fashioned in white marble.

Various bronze motifs, including a State of New South Wales laurel wreath, the face of a woman within a laurel wreath, and remembrance torches, add to meaning and composite design.

A cupola topped with an orb provides a solid Victorian quality to the structure. The memorial has two guard lights, both in disrepair and a light within the main chamber, also dysfunctional.
